Changes to Test & Tag Unit of Competency

Following recent changes to the Electrotechnology Training Package in March 2012, the current UEENEEP008B Conduct in-service safety testing of electrical cord assemblies and cord connected equipment is now superseded with UEENEEP026A Conduct in-service safety testing of electrical cord assemblies and cord connected equipment.

The unit of competency remains unchanged however there is a pre-requisite unit UEENEEE101A Occupational Health & Safety regulations, codes of practices in the workplace which must be completed prior to commencing the UEENEEP026A.

What does this mean?

Essentially the nationally recognised qualification that relates to the Testing & Tagging of portable appliances remains unchanged but you are now required to complete an additional pre-requisite unit that relates to basic Occupational Health & Safety.

ExelTrain Pty Ltd has all the training resources for all the units as listed on our scope of registration, which are as follows:

- UEENEEE101A Apply Occupational Health and Safety regulations, codes and practices in the workplace.

- BSBSMB401 Establish legal and risk management requirements of small business – this unit is from the BSB Business Services Training Package.

The ACL includes:

The ACL applies nationally and in all States and Territories, and to all Australian businesses. The Australian Consumer Law (ACL) commenced on 1 January 2011 as a law of the Commonwealth and of each State and Territory. It applies in the same way to all Australian consumers and businesses. At the same time, the name of the Trade Practices Act 1974 changed to the Competition and Consumer Act 2010.
